NZ4U2U Caravan Hire

Instructions for operating your caravan

Your caravan comes with two keys: a key for the hitch lock (which must remain locked and on the caravan except when engaging and disengaging the caravan from your car) and a key which will unlock your caravan door and lockers.

Important things for your attention

Your caravan is only suitable for hard sealed roads. You will need our consent to travel on an unsealed road so please let us know if your journey will take you on an unsealed road (except in the case of road works). If this is an unplanned requirement mid journey please advise by text 0220 694828

Please be aware of your long turning swing. In particular, if you park beside a tree, seat, fence, or lamppost while you have a coffee, take care when departing that the back of the caravan does not swing around and collide with the item you have parked beside.

Generators are used at your own risk/expense. They can cause power spikes which can “fry” the caravan’s sensitive electronics.

The caravan must be returned with a full gas bottle and in a clean state, including a clean oven, fridge and clean dishes with, all rubbish removed. And the toilet cassette and the waste container must be returned rinsed out. Additional ‘soiling fees’ of $250 will be charged if the cassettes are not rinsed and empty.

Prior to leaving the yard, please ensure the jockey wheel is secured in its housing and the winder handle and locking pin are tightly closed, the running lights on the outside of your caravan are operating, the stabiliser legs are raised, the gas bottle is off, and the internal doors, cupboards and any loose items in the caravan are secured.

Please ensure there is water in the water tank and toilet tank when using the water and toilet pump. These small pumps can burn out if used dry. Broken pumps will be charged for.

We require photos of your caravan before you depart the yard. We will use these in the event of an insurance claim.

You must have watched our instruction video on operating your caravan before departing the yard with your hire caravan as doing so is up part of our terms and conditions of hire.

If you identify any issues with your caravan, it is important you text us immediately. If you need immediate help, you should call 0220694828.

Attaching the caravan to your car

Your caravan must be securely attached to your car with the hitch lock in place. The hitch lock must stay on the caravan at all times (both on and off the car). This helps to prevent the caravan from being stolen when not attached to your car. We recommend you test your connection to the car by attempting to lift the caravan off the hitch and if the car comes up as well it means the hitch is secure. The trailer plug must be engaged, the caravan travelling lights working and the safety chain attached. There will be a red UK safety brake strap. This is only needed if you have requested a 50mm hitch. The red UK safety brake is additional to NZ requirements for the 1 7/8th trailer hitch and will be attached to one of the links on your safety chain. You must ensure this is not too tight or it will activate your caravan's brakes.

If your car has a trailer connection plug located away from the hitch' you may need an extension cable. It is important to check there is sufficient slack in your trailer plug cable to ensure it stays fastened while travelling. We have extension cables available if required.

The hand brake must be off when travelling (horizontal position) because if you travel with it on you will damage the brake pads and likely brake hubs and use lots of fuel. The jockey wheel can be used to raise and lower the caravan hitch on and off your car. It should be secured in its "U" shaped housing and must be raised high off the ground and secured firmly using the locking pin while travelling. The wind handle must be secure to ensure the caravan jockey wheel does not unwind and drop down while travelling. If you hear a rumbling sound behind while driving it pays to check your jockey wheel because it may have dropped down.

Your caravan comes with four stabiliser legs. These must be up while travelling and down when the caravan is disconnected from the car. The stabiliser legs can be raised and lowered using the winder tool located just inside the door of your caravan. If the stabiliser legs are not wound down before you get into the caravan, the caravan can tip and this will damage the rear of the caravan. The fitting nut for the two rear stabiliser legs is at the rear of the caravan. The fitting nut for the stabilisers at the front of the caravan is on each side toward the front of the caravan

The 12 volt and 240 volt electrical system

Your caravan comes with two power supply sources: a 12 volt power supply and the option to plug into a 240 volt supply. The 12 volt supply will supply power from the in-house battery which will recharge from the solar panel. It is extremely important to note that the key features in your caravan such as your lights, water pump, and heater fan will operate from the 12 volt supply. You do not need a 240 volt supply to operate your caravan.

The 240 volt supply will only work if your caravan is plugged into a 240 volt power supply. The 240 volt supply will allow you to use additional features in your caravan not available on the 12 volt only supply such as the microwave and the 240 volt power sockets. The 240 volt supply connection will also recharge your battery if it drops in charge.

Your caravan comes with a long caravan cable which can be used to plug into a 240 volt camping ground caravan 16 amp outlet. This is different to a normal 3 pin house supply. If you wish to plug the caravan into a normal 3 pin power supply outlet you will need an adapter. These can be hired from us or purchased from many camping supplies store. They are rated for indoor use only and not suitable for outside use.

It is equally important to note that the operation of the internal lights in your caravan is not evidence that your 240 volt supply is correctly connected and powered up as the internal lights run off the 12 volt system. We suggest you plug in the electric jug if you wish to test the 240 volt connection to your caravan. If this lights up then you have 240 volt power into the caravan.

The 12 volt system needs to be turned on at your mains switch. This master control switch is located inside the door of your caravan. The top left buttons allow you to check your battery reading. You have a 12 volt 110 ahr battery which recharges via the solar panel. Fully-charged, it will measure 13 volts. However, the amount of 12 volt power is limited, so we suggest being careful with the use of the 12 volt power when off grid. If your battery runs below 10 volts, you are in danger of losing the use of your 12 volt appliances. Your battery will need to be recharged by plugging the caravan into a 240 volt power source.

Light Switches

The bottom two buttons operate your caravan's internal and external lights. The master for the internal lights turns on the power to all the light circuits. You can control each set of lights individually with individual switches. One switch that is hard to find is up the front of the caravan under the left front bulkhead and cannot be seen while standing. This controls the two overhead lights in the forward cabin.

The outside light is located over the door. Be careful not to leave this on overnight as it cannot be seen from within the caravan and will drain the battery.

The Fresh Water System

Your water tank will be located between the lounge seats, and the water pump will be in the sink. You will need to fill the water tank from a clean filtered water source free from debris. Any sand or grit in the water can become lodged in the water system causing blockages which in turn will cause your pump to fault and/or a malfunction of the sensitive pressure valve. Connect the submersible water pump head to the inlet on the caravan, dropping the submersible water pump end of the pump into the water container. Be sure to lift the shield on the caravan slotting it down over the pump head to hold the pump head in place.

Water inlet shield

submersible water pump

handle connection point

water tank

Once you have connected your water, turn on the water pump switch (tap icon) located on the 12 volt master control panel inside the front door. Your pump should never be left to run without water in the tank or it will burn out and need replacing. Be especially careful to turn off the tap in the shower if you run out of water.

Your water barrel has a handle, which makes it easy to roll. To connect the handle stretch the handle over the connection points on each end of the water tank. There are also water chocks supplied and you are required to use these if you are travelling with water in your water barrel because the barrel is heavy and if it rolls around while travelling and can cause damage to the caravan.

Take care not to attempt to disconnect the pump head connection from the caravan by pulling it using the hose. If you do so you will likely just break the hose clip and disengage the hose from the pump head connection. We have taped our pumps head connections to the hose as a reminder to use the pump head connection to disengage the pump.

If you are close to a tap supply of water (15m) and do not wish to keep refilling your tank you can use a special water adapter that allows you to plug via a hose directly into a tap. These can be purchased from a caravan and camping supply store or hired from us.

The Waste Water System

Your grey water (shower, basin and sink runoff) waste bin is black and can be found in a bin between the seats inside your caravan. It should be set up on the exterior of your caravan by connecting the waste water tube to the connection on your caravan. To do this, first release the camelot valve handles on either side of the caravan connection plug by pulling them forward and removing the travelling plug from the socket attached to the caravan. Second, insert the connection on the flexible end of the waste tube into the caravan connection and secure the camelot valve handles by pressing them backwards, thus locking the flexible tube in place.

Ensure the red tap on the waste bin and the red tap on the caravan connection are open ie running in the same direction as the hose. There is a small breather pipe which acts as a air release valve on your waste bin. Ensure the cap on the end of this is removed to allow air to escape as the tank fills. The cap should be returned for travel if there are contents in the bin, to prevent leakage.

Ensure your tank is rinsed out on the return of your caravan. There is a fee for cleaning out a soiled waste tank.

It is important to note the waste pipes on the caravan are small and the caravan is largely flat along the base so there is not much head pressure or gravity fall in the waste system. This can make the waste water slow to drain. Don't be alarmed. This is normal. In fact, sometimes the caravan will be parked in such a manner that the waste water might even be running uphill to get into the tank. If you are concerned, you can tip a jug of boiling hot water down the drain to clear any debris the system may have collected while travelling.

The Gas System

Your gas bottle must be turned off when travelling. To activate the gas on arrival, ensure the gas bottle is connected, the valve is open and the yellow toggle in line with the hose line. The gas bottle must be secured in place with the blue strap. The gas bottle must be returned full. Keep your gas receipt. It must be handed in with the caravan. A simple test to ensure the gas is working is to ignite one of the hobs on the oven. They will need the gas system to heat your hot water, and caravan, and operate your fridge if you are "off grid".

The Black Water System (toilet)

The black waste system is not like your toilet at home. It is two-step: The toilet needs to be both flushed, using the flush button located on the top of your toilet cistern, and evacuated, using the grey slide on the side of the toilet towards the base. To empty the contents of the bowl after use, slide the evacuation lever horizontally. This will open the valve in the bottom of the bowl and allow the contents of the toilet to fall into the cassette below. Return the slide to the closed position after the evacuation has completed.

To empty the cassette, open the outside toilet hatch and remove the cassette from the cavity by pulling it towards you. It should slide easily. If it does not, check you have the evacuation slide inside closed. Do not force the toilet cassette out of the housing or it will break. It has wheels and a handle which makes it easy to maneuver. It must be emptied either into an approved dump station or a toilet. To empty pivot the funnel and remove the cap. Tip the cassette and empty the contents while depressing the air release valve. Once emptied, open the cover hatch on the top and pivot the orange tab/toggle beside this hatch. This opens the lid of the cassette and allows you to put a hose into the cassette and flush the contents. Ensure you do not tip/drop the hatch cover into the dump station along with the contents of your toilet cassette. To return the cassette to the caravan, ensure the orange toggle/tab is parallel to the toilet cassette. Do not force the cassette.

Your toilet may not need any special toilet agent in the cassette. It really depends on how long the contents are likely to be in the tank and the rules of the disposal location. A red light will show on the top of the flush tank when it is due to be emptied. We do not suggest waiting for this light as an overfilled cassette can be very unpleasant to deal with. Any overflow will collect in the exterior cavity and is messy to clean up. Your caravan cassette must be returned empty and rinsed out and your toilet external cavity must be clean.

Your flush tank for your toilet uses a separate water supply to your potable drinking water. It can be located above the toilet compartment on the outside of the caravan. If you flush the toilet and there is no water do not hold down the button or you will just burn out the pump. Unlock the flush tank on the exterior of the caravan and use a bucket to fill this tank. There is a handy bucket under the seat in the front of your caravan.

Operating your fridge.

Your fridge can operate on gas or electricity. DO NOT select the battery option (battery icon in the 4 o'clock position) on the selector knob – it is a UK function. If your fridge operates on the battery option you will drain your house battery very quickly.

NZ4U2U Caravan Hire

If you have fridge A your fridge will have a source selector knob, a thermostat knob, an ignitor button and a gas operational indicator. Select either a gas (flame icon in the 6 o'clock position) on the selector knob or electrical (plug icon in the 2 o'clock position) on the selector knob. Your fridge must be off while in transit.

If you have fridge B turn your fridge on by depressing the 'on' button for 2 seconds, use the mode button to select the power source and use the thermostat button to select the temperature. Depress the 'on' button for 4 seconds to turn the fridge off. You do not need to use an ignitor to ignite the gas this happens electronically if you select the gas option.

If you wish to run the fridge off electricity you must ensure the caravan is plugged into a 240 volt electrical source via the electrical cable. Set the source selector to the electrical plug icon and use the thermostat selector to set the temperature to the appropriate setting.

If you wish to run the fridge off gas, you must ensure the caravan's gas bottle is connected and gas is available. Set the source selector knob to the gas flame option and set the temperature to maximum. For fridge A you must simultaneously depress the thermostat button and the gas ignitor button. You will hear the ignitor clicking as it attempts to light. You will know the fridge has ignited successfully when you see the red line go across into the green area on the indicator panel. Note, sometimes you may need to depress the buttons several times and hold them for 10-20 seconds as it can take time for the gas to come through the line. The fridges can be temperamental and take some time to light, so be patient.

Your fridge is small and can take several hours to cool down especially in hot weather. You can check it is working by placing your hands on the fins at the back of the cooler box.

Operating your Oven and Hob

Your oven and hobs operate on gas. Ensure the gas bottle is connected and turned on. You must ensure you lift the bench insert and the glass top before turning on your gas hob. Your gas oven has a safety cut-out feature and will turn off if there is excessive draft.

To start the hobs or oven, rotate the flame setting button to maximum, and simultaneously depress this button and the gas ignitor button. You will hear a clicking sound as the ignitor attempts to light. It might take a couple of attempts if there is no gas in the line.

The Truma Hot Water and Heater System

Your Truma system controls the heating of your caravan and the heating of your hot water cylinder. The system can operate using your gas bottle or a 240 volt electrical source.

The control panel essentially comes with four menu options you need to be concerned with. These are located under the line on the control panel, In order as they appear along the panel are:

- ICON1 a thermostat in a caravan which controls the caravan's heating,
- ICON2 a thermostat in water which controls the caravan's hot water,
- ICON3 a gas bottle and electrical current which controls the selection of the source of power to be used in the heating of the caravan and hot water and,
- ICON4 an image of a fan which controls the speed of the fan when the heater is activated.

The remaining menu items along the bottom will not need to be changed and refer to the timer function, the clock setting function and the set up of the system. The icons that appear above the line indicate which of the functions have been activated.

To use the TRUMA control panel, activate the panel by depressing the middle menu dial This will activate your screen. Rotate the dial to move from one menu item to another and depress the dial to select an icon or set a function. The currently selected menu icon will flash to indicate it has been selected. The back button can be used to cycle back to a previous screen. You must depress the menu button to confirm your selection.

It is really important to set up your source power supply by connecting the gas bottle or plugging in the electrical cable and selecting the appropriate source setting ELEC 2 or the GAS using the 3rd icon on the control panel before turning on the heating or hot water system. It has a lockout function which will activate if you turn on the heating and hot water system when you have not connected the correct source and set the matching source with the 3rd icon on the TRUMA control panel. When a lockout activates you will see a flashing error code which will need to be cleared prior to using the system.

To set your heating, rotate the dial to get to the 1st icon, and select the caravan heating function by depressing the dial. Rotate the dial to the desired temperature, and depress the dial to complete the selection. A picture of a flame will appear if it is working.

To set your hot water, rotate the dial to get to the 2nd icon, and select the caravan hot water function by depressing the dial, rotate the dial to select "HOT" and depress the menu button to complete the selection. The icon will flash while it is heating. Do not use the "Boost" setting. The hot water tank is only 10L and it takes 23 minutes for the hot water cylinder to reheat, so we recommend allowing a gap between showers to ensure the second shower is warm.

The final menu item on the panel is the fan. This is only relevant while the caravan heating system is on. It can be set to HIGH or ECO as you wish. There is no air conditioning in your caravan.

Clearing a Lockout in the Truma Hot Water and Heater System

E517J, E514H, E517H or E507H. This means the caravan has been set to heat before 1) the caravan was connected to an operating gas source and/or 2) the 3rd icon on the menu was set to GAS. Ensure there is gas flowing from your gas bottles by turning on the hobs and checking the gas hobs are lighting. Set the 3rd icon on the control panel to gas and if the error code is not blinking, you can then turn on your heating hot water system.

E407H. This means the heating system was set to heat before 1) the caravan was connected to an operating 240 volt electrical source, and/or 2) the 3rd icon on the menu was set to ELEC2. Ensure the caravan is plugged into an operational electrical connection. If the caravan recognises a 240 volt electrical supply a plug icon will be displayed on the right hand side of the control. Set the 3rd icon to ELEC2, and If the error code is not blinking, you can then turn on your heating hot water system.

Trying to run the heating or hot water system without first selecting the correctly connected power source with the 3rd icon can result in a system lockout. The chosen source for powering the heating and hot water system must be available, connected and turned on. Where a viable method is not selected the control panel will display an error code as noted above.

Error Codes are blinking.—System Reset

If these codes a blinking a system lockout has occurred and must be cleared. To do this there are two solutions. For both solutions you must first turn off the heating and hot water on the panel.

- 1) wait until the 15 minute lockout period expires. While this is the Truma recommend- ed approach we have discovered that this is not always successful with these error codes.
- 2) HARD RESET complete a manual reset of the system. A manual reset is done by re- moving the cover on the water heater and pressing a small switch on the black heating unit under the front right seat. The switch is located by the blinking red light. You must hold this switch down for a few seconds until the light changes.

After trying these methods you should ensure the correct heating source is operational and use the 3rd icon to select this source either GAS or ELEC2. Once this is complete turn on the heating and hot water functions using the 1st and 2nd icons on the control panel.

W255H This means the master switch has been switched off. Please turn the vehicle master switch on (located by the door) and then the error code will disappear.

Other Really Important Things

Beds & Tables

Returning a caravan

NZ4U2U Caravan Hire

The internal doors and cupboards need to be securely latched. It is important to secure your internal doors and cupboards while travelling. If you have a sliding door there will be a strap at the top of the door and a catch at the bottom of the door. You must ensure both are secure or your door will slide back and forward while travelling and cause damage. If you have a swing door please ensure these are secured before moving the caravan.

Loose Items

It is also important that any loose items you may have placed in the caravan are secure prior to moving the caravan. Items can move around while the caravan is travelling and can cause damage. This includes your water and waste containers. The waste container should travel in the bin provided to ensure it does not move around on its wheels. If the water container is full you must secure it in the chocks provided.

Fixed Island Bed

If you have a fixed island bed, your bed comes with a handle at the end. Pull this handle gently to extend the bed at night. Ensure you lift the bed slightly when pushing the bed back into its day time position as it slides much easier if you lift it slightly rather than just kicking it with your knees.

Lounge Bed

The lounge area converts to a bed. Pull out the slats at the front of the caravan by grasping the panel below the front cabin drawers. These will unfold along the length of the couch. Fold down the back lounge swabs and turn the lounge swabs upside down to provide a mattress surface. Extra soft bambino mattress toppers are available on request.

Clean and Tidy

Please ensure your caravan is returned clean and tidy, the fridge and oven are wiped out, the dishes cleaned and sink wiped out. All rubbish must be removed and the linen stripped from the beds and placed in the linen hampers on return of the caravan to the yard. The toilet cassette must be emptied and rinsed and the cassette compartment must be clean. The waste container must be rinsed out. There will be an additional cleaning fee if the caravan is not returned clean and tidy. There is a toilet soiling fee of $250 if the toilet is cassette or cavity is not rinsed and clean on return.

Bedding

Bedding is not to be used outside the caravan. It must remain inside at all times.

BBQ

If you have a BBQ, please remember it must be returned clean or you will incur a cleaning fee.

Awning

If you have an awning, please ensure this is returned dry and repacked. If not there will be a dry and repack charge.

90km speed limit

Remember there is a 90km speed limit for travelling with your caravan so do not exceed this. We strongly recommend keeping your speed down if towing in high winds. The caravans can swing around a lot and it is important you drive to the conditions. NZTA will advertise weather warnings as appropriate and we ask that you comply with all the appropriate recommendations.

Damage

Please notify us if the caravan has suffered damage while in your care. Your caravan should be completely operational and in good condition when collected from us. If you find damage or you are having problems with an item that seems to be faulty you must take photos or notify us immediately. A delay in notification could result in a charge for the damage.

Have a great holiday.

- ii) NZ4U2U may choose to resolve the dispute by referral to the Small Claims Tribunal and the decision of this tribunal shall be considered final.
- iii) If for any reason the dispute is not resolved by reference to the Small Claims Tribunal or within 7 days of entering into negotiations or, or within such further period as the parties may agree upon in writing, the parties will refer the dispute to mediation. The mediator and the mediator's fee shall be agreed by the parties or, failing agreement within 7 days of the referral to mediation, appointed and determined by the President for the time being of the New Zealand Law Society. Unless the parties agree otherwise, the mediation will be conducted in terms of the standard mediation agreement promulgated by LEADR New Zealand Incorporated at the time the dispute is referred to mediation. All discussions during the mediation process shall be without prejudice and shall not be referred to in any later proceedings. Each party shall bear their own costs in mediation and shall meet the costs of the mediator equally between them. If the matter is not resolved by mediation within 14 days of the appointment of the mediator (or within such further period as the parties may agree in writing) then the mediation process shall be deemed to have terminated and the matter shall be referred to arbitration.
- iv) Regardless of the other provisions of this clause, any party may at any time refer the dispute to arbitration.
- v) Arbitration shall be conducted, in Christchurch, by one arbitrator to be agreed upon by the parties or, failing an agreement within 14 days of notice given pursuant to clause iii, or 14 days after termination of the mediation process pursuant to clause ii, to be nominated by the President for the time being of the New Zealand Law Society at the request of either party.
